

FINISH THE JOB SCORECARD: LAP DOG EDITION

When it comes to addressing the problem of gun violence in America, the 113th United States Congress took no meaningful steps to help keep this nation safer or reduce gun death and injury. In April 2013, the United States Senate failed to pass common-sense legislation to expand Brady background checks to online and gun show sales. Similar legislation, H.R. 1565, has also languished in the U.S. House of Representatives where the majority leadership refused to bring the legislation to a vote or allow even a hearing in committee.

There is a reason why Congress continues to block legislation that can save lives. Members of Congress chose to side with the corporate gun lobby, instead of the people who elected them to office. More than half of all members of Congress take money from the corporate gun lobby in exchange for blocking gun violence prevention legislation. These senators and representatives are Lap Dogs to the corporate gun lobby, choosing the profits of the gun lobby over the safety of the American people.

THE LAP DOG RATING

The Lap Dog rating for the 113th Congress is based on two basic criteria:

1) Did you block legislation to expand background checks on gun sales?

AND

2) Did you take money from the corporate gun lobby?

A Lap Dog is a member of Congress who blocked legislation to expand background checks and took money from the corporate gun lobby.

Senators are rated based on how they voted on the Manchin-Toomey amendment legislation in April of 2013 that would have expanded background checks on all online and gun show sales.

-  A “Thumbs Up” rating means the senator voted for the Manchin-Toomey amendment.
-  A “Thumbs Down” rating means the senator voted against the Manchin-Toomey amendment.

House Representatives are rated based on whether or not they have signed on to co-sponsor H.R. 1565 (113th Congress). H.R. 1565 would have expanded background checks to all online and gun show sales.

-  A “Thumbs Up” rating means the representative is a co-sponsor on H.R. 1565.
-  A “Thumbs Down” rating means the representative is not a co-sponsor on H.R. 1565.

The corporate gun lobby is defined to include: the National Rifle Association, the National Shooting Sports Foundation and the Gun Owners of America.

Total money contributions from the corporate gun lobby, dating back to 1990 for the 113th Congress, are based on a dollar sign ($) scale of one to five, and is defined as the following:

- 1 dollar sign equals: $1.00 - $10,000.00
- 2 dollar signs equals: $10,001.00 - $20,000.00
- 3 dollar signs equals: $20,001.00 - $45,000.00
- 4 dollar signs equals: $45,001.00 - $65,000.00
- 5 dollar signs equals: $65,001.00 and above

THE LAP DOGS OF THE 113TH CONGRESS

Lap Dogs are members of the 113th Congress who take money from the corporate gun lobby and continue to block progress on expanding Brady background checks to online and gun show sales.
